BEYOND BORDERS

Immigration & the Texas Economy

¡Vamos a México!

Join us for the exciting and highly anticipated 2025 Texas Lyceum international summer adventure, set against the vibrant backdrop of Mexico City! Don't miss this opportunity to be part of a transformative conference:

"Beyond Borders: Immigration and the Texas Economy."

Mexico is Texas's largest trading partner and a vital contributor to the state's economy. Texas-Mexico trade accounts for 5.2% of Texas's GDP — nearly $100.2 billion annually — representing a greater share of GDP than in any other US state. In 2019 alone, trade through our shared border supported over 7 million jobs across the US and Mexico.

For the past 15 years, the Texas Lyceum Poll has consistently shown that Texans are most concerned with three key issues. Among those three include immigration/border concerns and the economy. In recognition of their significance and the importance of engaging in civil discourse as we discuss some historically contentious topics, we've dedicated this year's summer conference to exploring these interconnected topics.

"Beyond Borders" will delve into the complexities of immigration and border issues for both Texas and Mexico, while also examining their deep ties to economic growth. Through this dialogue, we aim to uncover pathways to mutual understanding and actionable strategies that address the diverse needs and aspirations of all stakeholders.

Set in the dynamic metropolis of Mexico City, this conference invites you to explore the intricate relationship between immigration and economic growth in Texas—a topic that transcends borders and resonates with communities on both sides. As a pivotal platform for thought leaders, policymakers, and industry experts, this gathering will facilitate meaningful discussions, innovative solutions, and collaborations that shape the future.

Mexico City, with its rich history, vibrant culture, stunning architecture, and world-class cuisine, provides the perfect setting for this landmark event. The relationship between Texas and Mexico has never been more vital. Join us in Mexico City, where every corner tells a story, every meal celebrates camaraderie, and every conversation offers a chance to forge lasting connections and insights.
